Star Trek devices are hitting the market!

When I first saw the Adtec Bluetooth Wristband, my first impression was why would anyone wants a wristband that has Bluetooth capability, as what would they do with it anyway, connect to their cellphones for fun?

And then I read the Adtec Bluetooth Wristband specs stating that this device can connect to your mobile phone via Bluetooth and acts as a speaker or rather hands-free kit during driving or other activities such as fishing or running.

It s already available now in Japan for
